

How to Fill Faculty Positions

A new or replacement position will normally be funded in the following ways:

- Using an open complement position, as defined
- Using a filled complement position, bridged to a future retirement/termination
- Create budget for the position using existing ongoing faculty funds

The Provost may agree to provide additional funds to the faculty for a new faculty position that increases the overall complement count. Any written confirmation of the Provost's support must accompany the Faculty Identification/Mission Critical Form.

Requests for central funding should always be submitted in the year of hire. Funding for prior years' expenses will not be processed.